Made by artist duo Kelly Barker & Travis Leonard this Granite Ikebana will enhance any household decor from New Age, Southwest styles to Craftsman log cabins. Guaranteed to be absolutely leakproof, the rock for this vase comes from the world famous Montana Glacier Deposits and was hand selected for it's unique beauty and shape. The stone is then diamond drilled with a 1.5" center hole ground absolutely flat for complete stability and set with a floral frog (spiked metal plate) to receive flowers, bouquets or displays like japanese flower arrangements. Carefully polished, the finish enhances its glacier-ground, natural beauty. This is a one of a kind piece; there is no other exactly like it. Give it as a cherished gift or add it to your living room for that special touch. It is real stone, not ceramic, not pottery. Brand new, never circulated. This Granite ikebana measures 5"/4"/2.5".
