Made by artist duo Kelly Barker & Travis Leonard this Basalt Stone Bud Vase will enhance any household decor from New Age, Southwest styles to Craftsman log cabins. The rock for this vase comes from the Oregon Coast and was hand selected for its unique beauty and shape. The stone is then diamond drilled with a 11/16" center hole then the base is ground absolutely flat for complete stability the vase is then ready to receive small flowers, buds or other small displays. The natural finish enhances its rugged beauty. This is a one of a kind piece; there is no other exactly like it. Give it as a cherished gift or add it to your living room, office or window sill for that special touch. It is real stone, not ceramic, not pottery. Brand new, never circulated. This Basalt stone Bud Vase measures 6 1/2" tall by 2 1/2" wide.
